SPEAKING AND FACILITATION

Ayelet brings fresh perspectives that people are looking for right now. Bridging timeless wisdom, insights and courage to show the way to what is possible is her forte.

During her corporate career, she ran strategy and operations for billion dollar global sales organizations within Cisco Systems. She launched the first internal online community at Cisco in 1999, as well as a daily portal to position IT as a strategic business partner.

As an early adopter of the future of work and leading global teams in five continents herself, she saw what was coming next—the business and cultural shifts that organizations and leaders would need to embody to be positioned for success in the 21st Century and beyond. Many of the predictions are happening NOW.

THE TREKS

Seven customized, facilitated conversations and treks serve as a compass to navigate and unlock the path to the future.

The treks are offered to organizations, in groups and to individuals either virtually, or when possible, in person. Each Trek stands on its own, can be combined, or choose the entire series.

RADICAL TREKKING

Ayelet's books serve as guides where each person and organization is asked to do their own work. She serves as your trusted partner as you explore the emerging world of conscious living, conscious business, future of life and work, and question everything.

The Radical Trekking platform includes a daily blog where Ayelet shares her tales from the trek and the people she has met along the way. A new feature is coming soon where she will share meaningful and transformative conversations.
